From: Financial Times Briefing <FT@emailbriefings.ft.com>
To: ehbarak1@gmail.com
CC:
Date: Fri, 10/3/2014 8:31:27 AM
Subject: In today's FT: Public donations saveWedgwood Collection, Tories se...

To view this email as a webpage, click here

FINANCIAL TIMES

Friday October 03 2014

UK HOMEPAGE

Public donations save Wedgwood Collection

Public appeal raises £2.74m in a month to prevent break-up and sale of one of most important ceramics collections in UK

Tories set to defy Europe on human rights

Let UK disregard ECHR rulings or we pull out, says Grayling

Ashley takes fresh 5% Debenhams stake

Sports Direct owner's £33m bet raises prospect of full offer for department store chain

VIDEO

Rocket Internet – Enough fuel?

Shares in the German ecommerce investor Rocket Internet fell up to 14 per cent on its first day of trading in Frankfurt. Lex's Joseph Cotterill and Rob Armstrong discuss the pitfalls of venture capital vehicles becoming public equities.

US HOMEPAGE

ECB to start asset purchases this month

Draghi reveals details of loan-buying scheme

JPMorgan cyber attack hits 76m

Almost two-thirds of American homes affected

Dwindling US inflation casts shadow

Dollar's strength is helping to tighten financial conditions

EUROPE HOMEPAGE

Turkey approves use of force against Isis

Parliament approval comes as leadership doubts over US-led campaign persist

HK Government offices shuttered

Follows tense night that saw CY Leung agree to negotiate with students

Buffett admits 'huge mistake' on Tesco

Billionaire reveals $800m paper loss on investment in UK supermarket whose shares hit 11-year low

ASIA HOMEPAGE

HK protests may cost retailers HK$2bn: ANZ

The week coincides with China's Golden Week holiday and one of the busiest times for retailers

EM inflow forecast raised despite turmoil

IIF bumps up its 2014 prediction by $130bn to $1.2tn

Lagarde warns of 'new mediocre' era

IMF chief says world economy at an inflection point

WORLD NEWS

ECB's lack of detail on plan disappoints

Stimulus seen as wide in scope but vague on scale

Red Cross worker killed in Donetsk shelling

Bloodletting mars Brussels confirmations

Heckling and partisan recrimination lead to speculation on reshuffle of new commission

Business puts its cash behind Republicans

Chamber of Commerce spends $30m on midterms campaign

Neves aims to be Brazilian kingmaker

Ex-governor of Minas Gerais has struggled to gain trust of poorer voters

COMPANIES NEWS

Diekmann to step down as Allianz chief

Departure comes amid turmoil at insurer's US fund manager Pimco

Autopilots needed for tweeting drivers

Chief says autonomous driving is necessary because of distractions

Wonga to write off £220m of loans

UK payday lender to consider changing name after second setback in three days

Trader faces criminal 'spoofing' charges

Michael Coscia allegedly used algorithms to submit false bids

GM and rivals launch drive for profits

Manufacturers looking to increase volume in emerging markets and boost demand for SUVs outside US

MARKETS

Wall Street recovers from early sell-off

Constellation falls on earnings miss

Constellation said it earned $1.11 a share, shy of expectations for $1.15

Babcock slips as tracker funds exit

FTSE 100 falls to lowest level since December

Bond investors demand more from borrowers

Volatility and rising prices affect new issues

Europe reveals post-crisis swaps rules

Compulsory clearing for off-exchange derivatives

COMMENT

The fatal flaw in the fight against Isis

Preventing the collapse of Iraq was one thing. Waging an open-ended war is quite another

The hidden cost of freezing Russia out

Instead of having one major cross-border payments system there could eventually be many

England and Scotland will never be equal

The search for formal symmetry is not just unnecessary, but unworkable

A human rights distortion that harms the UK

Britain does not accept the unlimited mandate the Strasbourg court has taken on, writes Chris Grayling

Silencing Hong Kong will hurt democracy

China's attitude to the protest points to a changing policy, writes Wang Dan

MANAGEMENT

A thirst for ancient wine and beer

Patrick McGovern reconstructs what our ancestors drank – for sale as well as study

Style to win over the urban cyclist

The Faraday Porteur electric bike has power and range and is aimed at the city commuter

Male grooming: from macho to moisturiser

Increasingly image-conscious Korean men spend the most per head in the world on skincare products

Manage email | Forward this email

Feedback | Manage portfolio

Subscribe to the FT

Follow the FT

Unsubscribe | My Account | RSS | Privacy Policy | About Us | Help

© THE FINANCIAL TIMES LTD 2014

You have received this email because you have signed up from the NBE preference page.

This email was sent by a company owned by Pearson plc, registered office at 80 Strand, London WC2R 0RL.

Registered in England and Wales with company number 53723.